

Sam Smith Laughs About a Mix-Up Over the Color Hazel

From: Billboard Mined: 2026-10-07 3 min read

Singer Sam Smith made a funny mistake, and they are laughing about it.

Smith is a Grammy-winning singer from Britain. They visited "The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon" to talk about their fifth album, "Hazel Eyes." It came out in late August. Smith said the album is about love.

But the title has a problem. "I thought hazel eyes were brown, like hazelnut," Smith said. Hazel eyes are really a mix of colors, like brown, green and gold. The eyes the album is about are brown.

Smith found out about the mistake four months ago. By then, the album plans were already done. "All my clothes were brown for the whole album campaign. It's a nightmare," Smith said with a laugh. "It should've been called Hazelnut Eyes."

On the show, Smith sang the song "Oh Mother" with the TwoCity Chorus, a singing group with 28 members.

Word Treasure

Grammy -- A big award for music.

album -- A group of songs that come out together.

hazel -- An eye color that mixes brown, green and gold.

campaign -- A plan of photos, ads and events to tell people about something new.

chorus -- A group of people who sing together.

Background you need

An album is a group of songs a singer puts out together.

Singers often go on TV shows to talk about new music and sing for the audience.

Hazel eyes can look brown, green or gold, while a hazelnut is plain brown.
