Druski Sings His Way Through His First Night Hosting 'SNL'

From: Billboard Mined: 2026-11-09 3 min read

Comedian Druski hosted Saturday Night Live for the first time, and he hit all the right notes, literally. The musical guest was The Strokes, but Druski singing 'she said yes' became the night's real earworm. Two sketches showed off his talent for musical comedy. In 'Proposal,' Jeremy Culhane plays a man asking his girlfriend, played by Sarah Sherman, to marry him. Things do not quite go as planned. He assumed she would say yes, so he went all-out to make it unforgettable, including hiring entertainment. 'I don't really know how to tell you this, but the next four minutes are about to be really tough,' Culhane says. All eyes turn to Druski and a growing group around him as he belts: 'She said yes, oh, she said yes.' The second standout sketch, 'Golden Age of Hip-Hop,' had the Druski-led crew performing funny songs. When Druski was announced as a host for the 52nd season, friends like Drake, Travis Scott, Quavo and Wheezy cheered him on. For a first-time host, Druski showed he could do more than tell jokes.

Word Treasure

earworm -- A catchy tune that sticks in your head after you hear it.
sketches -- Short funny scenes performed by actors in a comedy show.
comedy -- Something funny, like a show or a film that makes people laugh.
standout -- Very good, better than the rest.
belts -- Sings loudly and with a lot of energy.

Background you need

Saturday Night Live, or SNL, is a famous American comedy show with a different guest host each week.

A sketch is a short funny scene performed by actors.

An earworm is a catchy tune that sticks in your head after you hear it.

Break it down

WHO: Comedian Druski, Jeremy Culhane, Sarah Sherman and The Strokes.
WHAT: Druski hosted Saturday Night Live for the first time and stole the show by singing.
WHERE: On Saturday Night Live, on Saturday night TV.
WHY: His song in the 'Proposal' sketch turned an awkward moment into the funniest part of the night.

Why it matters

If you like making your friends laugh, this story shows how a song can turn an awkward moment into the funniest joke of the night.

Test what you remember

1. What was Druski doing for the first time?

- (A) Acting in a movie
- (B) Hosting Saturday Night Live
- (C) Singing on TV
- (D) Telling jokes

2. Who was the musical guest?

- (A) Drake
- (B) The Strokes
- (C) Lil Baby
- (D) Quavo

3. In 'Proposal,' who plays the man asking his girlfriend to marry him?

- (A) Jeremy Culhane
- (B) Travis Scott
- (C) Ben Stiller
- (D) Druski

4. What does Druski sing in the sketch?

- (A) 'O Christmas Tree'
- (B) 'She said yes'
- (C) 'Golden Age of Hip-Hop'
- (D) 'Gangs Ain't Good'

5. What was the second standout sketch called?

- (A) 'Proposal'
- (B) 'The Strokes'
- (C) 'She Said Yes'
- (D) 'Golden Age of Hip-Hop'

6. Which season of SNL is this?

- (A) The 53rd season
- (B) The 51st season
- (C) The 52nd season
- (D) The 50th season

Answer key (try the quiz first!): 1: B 2: B 3: A 4: B 5: D 6: C

Questions to think about

MY THOUGHTS (at least 20 words):