Twin musicians join Olivia Rodrigo's new music video

Singer Olivia Rodrigo has a new music video for a remix of her song "Expectations" with Chappell Roan. It has lots of surprise guests, like musician David Byrne as a game-show host.

Two more surprises are identical twin brothers Jake and Matt Derting. They play in a punk band called Venus Twins. In the video, they are on Rodrigo's team in a game show like Family Feud.

The brothers grew up near Fort Worth, Texas, and now live in New York. A casting agent called them, but at first nobody told them who the singer was. "We didn't even know who it was until literally the night before," Matt said.

They spent about an hour getting spiky punk hairstyles. About 100 people worked on the set. Matt said Rodrigo was "so sweet."

The crew asked them to act like "the mean family." Afterward, Jake said, "We were coming home feeling 10 feet tall."
